SPRING BASEBALL CLASSIC FOR KIDS

For the 12th consecutive year, Georgia will battle Georgia Tech at Turner Field, home of the Atlanta Braves, in the event billed as the Kauffman Tire Spring Baseball Classic for Kids.

The 2014 game will be on May 13th at 7 p.m. Georgia holds an 8-3 edge in the series at Turner Field. Tickets are $12 with proceeds benefitting Children's Healthcare of Atlanta and its pediatric research of the Children's Neurosciences Program. The game has raised more than $200,000 annually for the not-for-profit pediatric healthcare system. In 2010, a portion of the ticket sales went to the "Prayers for Chance Fund" to help offset medical expenses of Bulldog infielder Chance Veazey.

Since 2004, there have been more than 20,000 tickets sold annually for each game. It ranks as one of the nation's largest attended college baseball games each year.

The average attendance for the Spring Baseball Classic For Kids at Turner Field is 19,308.

FOLEY FIELD REVIVAL

Fundraising for a $10 million project known as the "Foley Field Revival" is now underway. In December 2012, the lead gift for this renovation was provided by the Foley family of Columbus, Ga. These initial steps paved the way for construction plans to be put in place and the entire scope of the project to be realized. It will provide this nearly 25-year-old facility a drastic facelift and help regain its former glory.

Plans include a new locker room, lounge and training areas for student-athletes as well as brand new amenities for fans, including a larger concourse and two new club-seating areas. An expanded and remodeled press box and Foley Field entrance will finish off the fresh look.

For a look at the project, please visit The Georgia Bulldog Club website: www.thegeorgiabulldogclub.com and click on the Foley Field Revival link.

GEORGIA BASEBALL ON THE RADIO/INTERNET

Fans wishing to follow all the action of the 2014 University of Georgia baseball team can tune in to The Georgia Bulldog Sports Network and via GTV subscription on georgiadogs.com

As part of the Georgia Bulldog Sports Network from IMG College, all Georgia baseball games will be heard locally on WRFC 960 AM or WGAU 1340 AM. WRFC 960 will serve as the primary home for all broadcasts. WRFC 960 is also the flagship station for Lady Bulldog Basketball. In the event there is a timing conflict between women's basketball and baseball, women's basketball will air on 960 AM The Ref and baseball will air on WGAU 1340 AM. The veteran Bulldog team of Jeff Dantzler and David Johnston will serve as announcers on the broadcasts. All games will be produced through the IMG College in Winston Salem, N.C.

Fan can subscribe to GTV and listen to every game online through georgiadogs.com. Selected Georgia baseball home games will have live streaming video. An annual subscription is $89.95, and monthly subscriptions are available for $9.95/month, and include all video & audio content. All subscriptions will automatically renew. Users must cancel their membership to end service.

Bulldogs Sport New Look In 2014

10 Questions With Coach Scott Stricklin

Now entering your first season at the University of Georgia, how do you feel like everyone on staff and the student-athletes has handled the transition?

"Transition is never easy. It's different for everybody. The way you coach, the way you communicate, it's good to be patient and open-minded. We wanted to set the standard of doing things in the fall, and it went well. We are looking for consistency and discipline. We challenged them. They competed well in the fall. We stressed taking care of the little things because they add up to big things."

How much practice time will you have before the season begins on Feb. 14?

"We had 27 practices during the fall, and we started preseason practice as a team again on Jan. 24. That gives us three weeks before our first game. Pitchers started bullpen sessions in January."

In the off-season, you get eight hours a week for baseball activities and weights. The field is open, and we've got pitching machines so the hitters can get their swings or take ground balls. They are accountable to be ready when we open in February."

What do you anticipate the 2014 rotation will look like?

"We've got a good problem with our rotation in that we've got a lot of candidates. You look at last year's rotation in Sean McLaughlin, Patrick Boling and Jared Walsh, and then there's Luke Crumley, Ryan Lawlor and Robert Tyler. All six had a great fall and are candidates for the rotation."

We have depth on the mound. Fred Corral did a great job with all our pitchers. They made progress, were very competitive, and I'm excited about our pitching staff."

What about the closer?

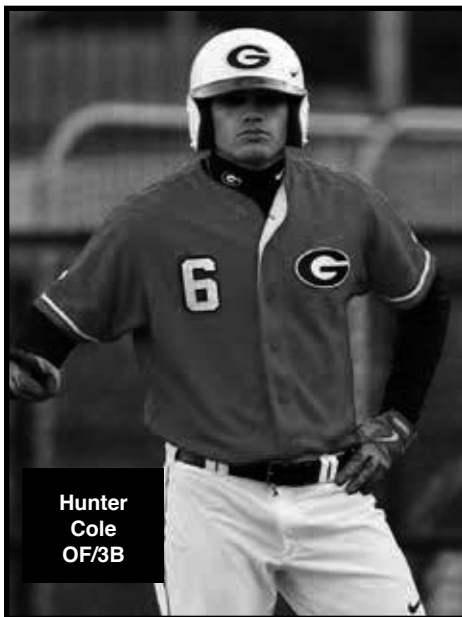

"As of right now, we will handle that by committee. Dylan Cole pitched some big innings for us last year, and we've got Jarrett Brown who has the potential to be a shutdown lefty. Jared Cheek is a junior college transfer that had a great fall and could also fit that role. It may come down to more about matchups each game rather than having one closer."

How do you feel about your first recruiting class?

"As far the early signing class from November, we got a great group of high school recruits all from the state of Georgia. It's an athletic group with depth on the mound and in the field. There are certainly a couple of guys in this class that we'll have to wait and see what happens with the professional draft in June. If you're talented enough to play in the SEC as a freshman, then you're talented enough to get drafted professionally."

What newcomers will make an impact in 2014?

"One of the first things we did when we arrived in Athens was go visit the incoming players that had already signed with Georgia. We met with them and their families and talked about coming to UGA as opposed to signing a pro contract. Ultimately, most of that recruiting class decided to come to UGA."

Stephen Wrenn is an exciting player, most likely a leadoff guy and our centerfielder this year; Mike Bell is going to be our every day shortstop; and I've already mentioned a few pitchers in Lawlor, Cheek and Tyler. All of these players have a chance to be impact guys in the SEC."

How do you feel about the offensive potential of the 2014 club?

"We are an athletic team that will put pressure on defenses. I feel like we'll have some power in the middle of the order and also have some guys that can bunt and steal bases at the top and bottom of the order. We have a good mix of young guys and veterans that will be exciting to watch."

How do you feel about the defensive potential of the 2014 club?

"We are young in some key spots -- shortstop and centerfield, and you will see some very athletic plays but also some growing pains too. Overall, I like our athleticism around the field."

You have conducted several opportunities for former lettermen to get involved, how has that been received?

"We've had a tremendous response from former lettermen. They helped build the tradition of Georgia Baseball, and we want them to continue to be a part of the program."

We had a lot of fun at our golf outing; some guys hadn't seen each other in 20 years. We did this annually at Kent State, and it was one of my favorite days of the year."

We want our lettermen comfortable coming back to Athens and to the University of Georgia."

The Georgia Bulldog Club played host to a Meet & Greet at Foley Field in the fall, how did that go?

"We had close to 300 people including season ticket holders, former players and fans, and I was pleased with the turnout. We introduced the coaching staff, had dinner on the field, gave them a tour of the stadium and provided an update on the Foley Field Revival project."

It was great to see just how much excitement there was in the community for baseball, and we're all looking forward to the season getting started on Feb. 14."

Head Coach
1st Season/10th overall
(Kent State '95)

#10

Scott Stricklin, who led his alma mater Kent State to five NCAA Regionals and the 2012 College World Series, was named head baseball coach at the University of Georgia on June 3, 2013.

Since arriving in Athens, Stricklin has created an atmosphere of excitement around the program, starting with the current student-athletes, extending to the former lettermen and to Georgia baseball fans around the state. He has organized numerous letterman functions to help reunite the Bulldogs and steer the Foley Field Revival project.

Stricklin, 41, posted a 350-188 record during a nine-year stint with the Golden Flashes, winning five Mid-American Conference regular season crowns and five MAC Tournament titles. Known for developing student-athletes on and off the field, 30 KSU players were selected in the Major League Baseball draft during his tenure, and from 2010-12, the team registered a perfect 1,000 score in the NCAA's Academic Performance Rate (APR) report. KSU was one of only 16 schools in the country to reach this academic accomplishment and the only public institution on the list. Also, the Golden Flashes were honored in Omaha in 2012 for having the highest team Grade Point Average (GPA) of all the eight participants at the College World Series (CWS), owning a 3.09 GPA. For the spring semester of 2013, the KSU baseball team registered a 3.06 GPA.

Stricklin earned his first head coaching job in July of 2004 when he returned to Kent State following three seasons as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Georgia Tech under former KSU head coach Danny Hall. Stricklin began his coaching career in 1998 as a volunteer coach for the Yellow Jackets and then spent two years as the pitching coach at Vanderbilt from 2000-01. While at Tech, he landed the consensus No. 1 ranked recruiting class in 2002 as they advanced to the College World Series that year, and they made it to an NCAA Super Regional in 2004 before falling to Georgia in Atlanta.

His final recruiting class at Vanderbilt was ranked seventh best by Baseball America. In 2011, he served as an assistant coach for the USA Baseball Collegiate National Team.

est season in school history in 2012 as the Golden Flashes posted a record 47 victories including a 21-game winning streak and their first trip to the CWS. KSU's post season run featured its fourth consecutive MAC Tournament title to go with its first NCAA Regional and Super Regional championships.

The Golden Flashes went on the road and won the NCAA Gary (Ind.) Regional and then upset No. 5 national seed Oregon in a Super Regional in Eugene. At the CWS, they eliminated top-ranked Florida and finished tied for fifth. KSU wound up with a final national ranking of No. 5, the highest ranking in team history. For the second year in a row, Stricklin was honored as the American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA)/Rawlings NCAA Mideast Coach of the Year and the MAC Coach of the Year.

Stricklin, a two-time All-Mid-American Conference catcher, handled pitching staffs that were ranked No. 1 and No. 2 in the nation in earned run average during his final two playing seasons at KSU. A 23rd round draft pick of the Minnesota Twins in 1993, he played five seasons of professional baseball and reached the Triple-A level with the Twins.

Stricklin graduated magna cum laude with a bachelor's degree in marketing from Kent State in 1995. He and his wife Cheri have three children: daughters Sydney (11) and Keaton (6), and a son, Cale (9).

Fred CORRAL

Asst. Coach/Pitching
1st Season
(Sacramento State '98)

#34

Fred Corral, one of the most respected pitching coaches in the country, joined the Georgia staff as an assistant coach in June of 2013.

Corral arrived at Georgia to direct the pitching staff after spending four seasons as pitching coach at the University of Memphis. During his career, he has served as an assistant coach in charge of the pitching staff at Tennessee, Oklahoma, Sacramento City College and San Joaquin Delta College plus as an instructor in the professional ranks with the Los Angeles Dodgers and Montreal Expos. A total of 65 pitchers have been drafted under his tutelage including 11 in the top 10 rounds with eight reaching the Major Leagues.

Corral's work with the Memphis pitching staff saw the Tigers steadily improve their Earned Run Average each season including posting a 3.05 mark in 2013 which was the best for the program since 1976. In three of his four seasons with Memphis, the staff registered 400-plus strikeouts including a record 462 in 2010. In 2013, Memphis' top two pitchers were drafted for the first time in their career: Sam Moll (3rd round, Colorado) and Erik Schoenrock (11th round, San Diego), and Schoenrock became the first Tiger in school history to be named Conference USA Pitcher of the Year. Under Corral, eight Tiger pitchers had an opportunity to play professional baseball including a pair of third round picks.

Prior to arriving at Memphis, Corral worked two stints at Tennessee under different head coaches (2003-04, 2008-09) and three years at Oklahoma (2005-07). In Corral's most recent stint at Tennessee, he helped develop several pitchers who would eventually get drafted including left-hander Bryan Morgado. He went on to earn Freshman All-America honors and strike out 104 batters, marking just the second time in Volunteer baseball history that a freshman eclipsed the 100-strikeout plateau. Morgado was drafted in the fourth round by Philadelphia in 2010.

Corral made the move to head the pitching staff at Oklahoma following the 2004 season in Knoxville. During his three years with the Sooners, he helped OU to a pair of NCAA Regional appearances, including the program's first Super Regional showing in 2006. During Corral's tenure with the Sooners, nine pitchers were taken in the MLB Draft (including 13th-rounder Daniel McCutchen) and six OU hurlers earned All-Big 12 honors.

During Corral's first stint at Tennessee, the Volunteers' pitching staff ranked among the best in the SEC. His staffs posted consecutive sub-3.90 ERAs, and UT's 3.51 ERA in 2004 was the 13th best in the country. The 2004 Volunteer staff recorded the fifth most strikeouts in school history and held opponents to a .243 batting average, which was UT's lowest mark in nine seasons. Tennessee also had three pitchers in 2004 with ERAs that ranked among the top 12 in the SEC. Four of Corral's pitchers at Tennessee were selected in the MLB draft. He signed James Adkins and coached Luke Hochevar, hurlers who rank first and third on UT's all-time strikeouts list, respectively.

Corral began his collegiate coaching career in 1993 as a pitching coach at his alma mater, San Joaquin Delta Junior College in Stockton, Calif. He spent two seasons there before going to Sacramento (Calif.) City College (SCC) from 1996-2002. Corral served as the pitching coach at SCC, where he was a vital part of the program's success, working for one of the most successful junior college coaches in the nation in Jerry Weinstein. During this time, SCC produced one national championship, five Bay Valley East Conference titles and a pair of state runner-up finishes. SCC posted a 281-56-1 record for a .833 winning percentage during his tenure. Of the 36 drafted pitchers under his tutelage at SCC, 13 signed professional contracts. Every pitcher Corral coached at SCC was either drafted or transferred to a four-year institution.

Scott DAELEY

Asst. Coach/Hitting Recruiting Coord.
1st Season
(Wake Forest '02)

#9

Scott Daeley was named assistant coach and recruiting coordinator for the University of Georgia baseball program on June 11, 2013.

Daeley arrived at Georgia from Kent State where he was a member of Scott Stricklin's staff for the past nine years. Daeley, 36, will serve as Georgia's hitting coach, work with the outfielders and will be the third base coach during games.

As the hitting coach at KSU, Daeley helped develop 30 All-Mid-American Conference position players, three MAC Players of the Year and six All-Americans. During Daeley's time as recruiting coordinator at KSU, the Golden Flashes assembled classes that excelled both on the field and in the classroom. He was a part of the KSU program that made five NCAA Regional appearances highlighted by the 2012 College World Series.

A total of 36 Flashes were selected in the Major League Baseball Draft from 2005-13 including 26 during his final five seasons at KSU. After the 2012 season that saw the Flashes reach the College World Series, Baseball America went back and re-ranked the recruiting classes from 2008 and ranked the Golden Flashes as having the ninth best class. The 2006 class was ranked by Baseball America as the No. 17 class in the country becoming the first Mid-American Conference program to be included in their recruiting Top 25.

In conference play, KSU hitters finished in the top three in the MAC in batting average, runs and on base percentage for the past eight years and finished in the top three in fielding percentage seven of the past eight seasons. The Golden Flashes have led the league in home runs four times and taken home the batting average and runs scored crown on three occasions. In 2009, the Golden Flashes set a single season MAC record for runs scored during a season when they crossed the plate 504 times. The 2012 Kent State offense led the country in doubles with 163 and finished third in hits with 729.

Prior to going to Kent State, Daeley served as a volunteer assistant coach for two years at his alma mater Wake Forest. Daeley rejoined the Wake Forest baseball program in May 2002 after playing three years in the San Francisco Giants organization. Daeley played center field and batted leadoff for the Demon Deacons in 1998 and 1999 and was the catalyst for back-to-back Atlantic Coast Conference

Brandon MAY

Volunteer Coach
1st Season
(Alabama '13)

Brandon May, a Marietta native who earned All-SEC honors at Alabama, was named the volunteer coach for the Georgia Bulldog baseball program in July of 2013.

May, 26, will work with the infielders, assist Scott Daeley with the hitters and serve as the first base coach.

May served as a student coach in 2013 at Alabama after playing three seasons of professional baseball as an infielder/catcher in the Chicago Cubs organization. He was a 36th round draft pick of the Cubs in 2009. May returned to Alabama in 2012 to finish his degree in business marketing. Alabama went 35-28 in 2013 and advanced to the NCAA Tallahassee Regional.

A three-year starter for the Crimson Tide, May hit .334 with 21 home runs and 132 RBI in his 168-game career and was a regular on the SEC Academic Honor Roll and Dean's List. He is one of 16 players in Alabama history with at least 200 career hits. He earned first team All-SEC honors as an outfielder in 2008 after batting .365 with nine home runs and 50 RBI as a sophomore. He followed that season by batting .347-

12-69, all career highs, in 58 games as a junior. During his collegiate career, he made starts around the infield and in the outfield.

May enjoyed a stellar career for the Lassiter Trojans in helping them win a state title and in the East Cobb summer leagues for the Astros and Yankees where he was a part of 10 World Series championship teams. He was a four-year starter at Lassiter and was a two-time high school All-America selection.

May is married to the former Taylor Jones of Roswell, Ga.

Ryan GEARHEART

Strength & Conditioning
1st Season
(Middle Tennessee St. '09)

Ryan Gearheart joined the University of Georgia Athletic Association in July of 2013 as an Assistant Strength and Conditioning Director. He works with several sports including the Bulldog baseball, softball and diving programs.

Gearheart came to Georgia after spending the past two years in a similar capacity with the Kent State Flashes. While at Kent State, he worked directly with the football, baseball, field hockey and softball programs. Also, he served as a nutritional specialist for all the athletic teams and provided information and technology support in the athletic training facility.

He earned a bachelor's degree in Exercise Science from Middle Tennessee State in 2009 and a master's degree in Sport Management from Eastern Michigan in 2013. He has certifications as a Strength and Conditioning Coach (SCCC), Strength and Conditioning Specialist (CSCS), Level 1 Nutritionist (Pn1) and in Speed and Explosion for Team Sports (NASE).

Gearheart's work experience also includes a stint at D1 Sports Training in Nashville, Tenn., where he was a facility coordinator/head speed and strength coach. Also, he was a graduate assistant in strength and conditioning at Eastern Michigan University.

After graduating from MTSU, he had a one-year internship at Ohio State with the football strength and conditioning staff.

A native of Columbia, Tenn., Gearheart now resides in Athens.

Jeff GUY

Director of Baseball Operations, 1st year (Lipscomb '81)

Jeff Guy was named the director of baseball operations for the University of Georgia baseball program on Aug. 1, 2013.

Guy has coached baseball in Georgia for 30 years at the high school and college levels, and most recently, he has served as the Operations Manager for the non-profit East Cobb Baseball, Inc., located in Marietta. It is one of the premier youth baseball organizations in the country. ECB's championship tradition has produced more than 180 national titles since its inception in 1985 with many of those players going on to have success at the collegiate and professional level.

Guy went in to coaching following a tremendous playing career at Lipscomb where he helped the Bisons win an NAIA National Championship. A native of Nashville, Tenn., Guy led the Bisons to four consecutive NAIA World Series appearances. In 2009, he was inducted in to the Lipscomb Athletics Hall of Fame.

From 1982-86, Guy served as head baseball coach at Forest Park High School, winning a state championship in 1985. He was named the Georgia High School Coach of the Year in 1985 and 1986. From 1986-1991, he directed the Lassiter High School program, compiling a 95-38 record. Following one year at Columbus College as an assistant coach, Guy was hired at Georgia Tech as a hitting coach. The Yellow Jackets led the ACC in batting in seven of the next eight seasons. In Guy's first year in Atlanta, Tech finished as the national runner-up at the 1994 College World Series. In 2001, Guy was named the baseball operations manager at East Cobb Baseball where he has also coached for more than 20 years, helping win 25 national championships.

Guy earned his bachelor's degree in health and physical education in 1981 from Lipscomb and a master's degree in health and physical education from West Georgia in 1989. He and his wife Kathleen have two children, Garrett (18) and Abigail (15).

Mike DILLON

Associate Director, Sports Medicine, 27th year (South Carolina '81)

Mike Dillon was named Associate Director of Sports Medicine in June 2011 after serving as an associate athletic trainer since 1997. For the past 13 years, his responsibilities include care, prevention, and rehabilitation for the UGA baseball team. During this time, he has been a part of three of Georgia's College World Series teams including the 2008 squad that finished second. Mike is also responsible for purchasing and inventory control and computer technology for the sports medicine department. In 2003, he was named the Dewey Dean Employee of the Year by the UGA Athletic Association.

Dillon was named Head Basketball Athletic Trainer at UGA in 1987 after serving as Head Athletic Trainer, baseball coach, and physical science teacher at Chapin High School, Chapin, S.C. He received his undergraduate degree from the University of South Carolina, and his Master of Arts at the University of Alabama. He is the past president of the South Carolina Athletic Trainers Association and the Georgia Athletic Trainers Association. His experience also includes working at the United States Olympic-Training center in Colorado Springs and as an athletic trainer for the 1996 Summer Olympic Games.

Dillon is also a certified strength and conditioning specialist, instructor in first aid and CPR, and an athletic training and emergency care instructor, and an EMT - intermediate. He also serves as an adjunct instructor in the Department of Exercise Science. He received the Southeast Athletic Trainers Association Backbone award in March 1998. Mike has co-authored numerous journal articles and published book chapters. Mike has also lectured throughout the US and Japan. Mike is also a guest reviewer for the Journal of Athletic training in the areas of emergency medicine and rehabilitation.

Dillon is married to the former Ouida Moore from Cheraw, S.C., and they have one daughter Hannah Jean. An avid jogger, Dillon completed his first marathon in January of 2004.

"Home Runs For Hometown Rivals"

Each year, the University of Georgia baseball team participates in various community service events.

For the past four years, Bulldog student-athletes from various sports have helped stage a baseball game at Foley Field featuring Special Olympic players. The fundraiser benefits Athens-Clarke County Special Olympics. The event is billed as "Home Runs for Hometown Rivals" and features a game between Special Olympic players from the Westside of Athens versus Eastside players.

The unique event features pregame ceremonies, introductions and the student-athletes help the participants swing bats and run the bases. The event has raised more than $2,000 annually through ticket sales, concessions, donations and corporate sponsorships.

The UGA Athletic Scholarship Endowment Program was instituted to allow supporters of the University of Georgia Athletic Association to invest in the educational opportunities of UGA student-athletes. The program is vital to the future of Georgia Athletics by providing the long-term solution of keeping pace with escalating expenses.

A gift to establish a scholarship provides income towards funding a scholarship each year and permanently memorializes the donor or any individual whose honor the scholarship is named. A full scholarship is endowed through a gift of $150,000.

Currently, there are six baseball scholarship endowments. For more information about the Athletic Scholarship Endowment Program or other giving opportunities, please contact the UGAA Development office at (877) 423-2947.

Leon Farmer Scholarship Endowment

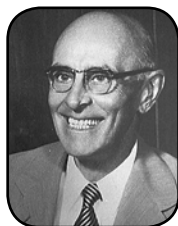

Leon Farmer Jr., and Leon Farmer III, UGA alumni from Athens, have fully funded four scholarships for student-athletes in football, men's basketball, baseball and gymnastics in memory of Leon "Sarge" Farmer, a popular UGA and Athens High ROTC instructor and founder of Leon Farmer and Company.

Bulldogs Claim Tech, Florida Series But Miss Postseason

In 2013, Georgia batted .279 and averaged 4.9 runs a game while posting a 4.54 ERA and a .976 Fielding Percentage. Georgia's defense ranked among the best in the SEC and was the second highest mark in school history since a record .978 in 2012. However, the team wound up with a 21-32 overall mark and just 7-20 in the SEC. The Bulldogs failed to make the SEC Tournament and missed the NCAA postseason for the third time in the past five years.

David Perno, who served 17 years on the Bulldog staff including the past 12 as the head coach, saw his tenure end. In the Perno era, the Bulldogs made three College World Series appearances including the 2008 CWS Finals and six total NCAA Regionals. He tallied a record of 390-335-1, winning SEC titles in 2004 and 2008.

A couple of highlights for the 2013 Bulldogs included winning the season series from rivals Georgia Tech and Florida. It marked the first series win over Tech since 2007 and first over the Gators since 2006. In the final game with Tech, Georgia erased a 7-0 deficit in Atlanta for a 14-13 win in 11 innings and then dropped the opener to Florida before taking the final two games.

Senior third baseman Curt Powell led the club and ranked among the SEC batting leaders with a .376 average while senior shortstop Kyle Farmer collected a team-high 44 RBI while batting .290. Farmer broke his own school record for highest fielding percentage by a shortstop by posting a .978 mark in 270 chances covering 52 starts. His old record was .970 set last year. Farmer concluded his career with a .968 fielding percentage for a shortstop which is a Bulldog record too. One other defensive note, sophomore Nelson Ward set a fielding record for a second baseman by registering a .987 mark.

On the mound, Georgia was led by freshman right-hander Sean McLaughlin who went 5-6 with a 3.28 ERA in 13 starts covering a span of 74 innings. The workhorse of the staff was junior left-hander Patrick Boling as he pitched a team-high 82 innings, making 22 appearances and 11 starts, going 3-7 with a 4.17 ERA.

During the season, sophomore two-way standout Jared Walsh went from closer to starter. He wound up going 2-4 with a 3.35 ERA and 3 saves in 17 appearances including five starts. Walsh played in 47 games in the field as an outfielder/first baseman and designated hitter, batting .297-3-26.

Top Bulldog Performers

Senior Curt Powell earned All-SEC Second Team honors while Sean McLaughlin was selected to the All-Freshmen SEC squad in a vote of league coaches. Senior LHP Blake Dieterich (2-3, 3.51 ERA, 1 SV) earned a spot on the SEC Community Service team for his efforts off the field.

Trio Of Bulldogs Selected In MLB Draft

Kyle Farmer, Curt Powell and Patrick Boling were selected in the 2013 MLB draft in early June. Farmer was an 8th round pick of the Los Angeles Dodgers as a catcher; Powell went in the 21st round to Detroit as a shortstop; Boling was a 32nd round pick by Washington as a pitcher.

Georgia extended its string to 41 straight seasons with at least one current player signing a professional contract.

Scott Stricklin Hired To Lead Program

On June 3, Scott Stricklin, who led his alma mater Kent State to five NCAA Regionals and the 2012 College World Series, was named the 25th baseball coach in Georgia history. Stricklin, 41, posted a 350-188 record during a nine-year stint with the Golden Flashes, winning five Mid-American Conference crowns and five MAC Tournament titles.

Salute To The 2013 Seniors

Georgia's 2013 club featured seven seniors including Johnathan Taylor and Chance Veazey who saw their Bulldog careers cut short due to separate accidents that left them paralyzed. Taylor was a three-year starting outfielder while Veazey was a second baseman who had earned a starting job before the accident. Both graduated in December of 2013.

The senior class included four-year starting C/DH Brett DeLoach, four-year starting shortstop Kyle Farmer, three-year starting third baseman Curt Powell plus pitchers Bryan Benzor and Blake Dieterich.

Farmer etched his name in several spots in the Bulldog career record book, ranking in the top 10 with 212 games (10th), 861 At Bats (4th), 265 Hits (5th), 63 doubles (4th), 168 RBI (T5th) and 395 Total Bases (10th). Meanwhile, Dieterich ranked fifth all-time with 92 appearances and tied for eighth with 10 saves.

GEORGIA'S SIX SEC TITLES

1933 SEC: 8-1 Overall: 12-3-1

First year of the SEC; Highest conference winning percentage

1953 SEC: 12-4 Overall: 23-5

Beat Miss. St. 2-0 in a 3-game playoff between division leaders

1954 SEC: 11-4 Overall: 16-9

Beat Ole Miss 2-1 in 3-game playoff between division leaders

2001 SEC: 20-10 Overall: 49-20

Highest conference winning percentage; Advanced to CWS (T7th)

2004 SEC: 19-11 Overall: 45-23

Shared title with Arkansas (same win%); Advanced to CWS (T3rd)

2008 SEC: 20-9-1 Overall: 45-25-1

Highest conference winning percentage; Advanced to CWS Finals (2nd)

Note: In 1987, Georgia finished the regular season with the best SEC mark at 18-8 but the SEC title went to league tournament winner Miss. State. MSU went 4-0 in the tournament after going 13-13 during the year. Starting in 1988, the SEC title went to the regular season champion and the tournament winner received the league's automatic NCAA bid.

Note: Georgia has won five SEC Eastern Division titles (1955, 1975, 2001, 2004 and 2008). The SEC Championship format has varied since the inception of the league in 1933. Some years, the SEC has had divisions. In 1977, the league began holding an SEC Tournament following the regular season.

2008 SEC CHAMPIONS College World Series: 2nd

2004 SEC CHAMPIONS College World Series: T3rd

THIS IS SEC BASEBALL

The Southeastern Conference, with its storied 80-year history of athletic achievements and academic excellence, has built perhaps the greatest tradition of intercollegiate competition in baseball of any league in the country since its inception in 1933. The SEC posted another tremendous season in 2013.

Nine teams earned selection to NCAA postseason play with LSU and Miss. State advancing to the College World Series (CWS). A SEC squad has appeared in the CWS 28 of the last 29 years. MSU made it to the CWS Finals, marking the ninth time since 2000 that an SEC team played for the national title in Omaha and sixth in a row.

Vanderbilt won the SEC regular-season title with a 25-3 conference record while LSU claimed the West at 23-7. LSU won the SEC tournament title over Vanderbilt.

The SEC boasts 12 former National Players of the Year, 11 Baseball America Coach of the Year and 10 Collegiate Baseball Coach of the Year honors. A total of 161 student-athletes have been named first-team All-American, six of which came in 2013.

Tremendous Fan Support For SEC Baseball

The SEC drew a record of more than 2.25 million fans to its on-campus ballparks in 2013, the seventh year in a row to draw over 1.6 million.

Nine SEC teams drew in excess of 100,000 fans to their parks in 2013. The SEC averaged nearly 5,000 fans per game in 2013, the seventh straight year to exceed the 4,000 mark.

The SEC Baseball Tournament drew a new record-high 134,496 fans in 2013 and 7,912 per game. The SEC Championship Game was broadcast nationally on ESPN2 for the fourth straight year.

The MLB Draft

Three SEC players were taken in the first round of the 2013 MLB Amateur Draft. The SEC has now had a first round pick in each year since 1991 and 96 total in the first round during that time.

Did You Know?

Georgia won the first baseball national title for the SEC in 1990 while LSU has collected six crowns since then (1991, '93, '96, 1997, 2000, '09) while South Carolina (2010, '11) has claimed two. There have been seven runner-up finishes including Georgia in 2008, Florida in 2011, South Carolina in 2012 and Mississippi State in 2013.

In 2008, Georgia became the first school to sweep the following SEC honors in the same season: Player of the Year (Gordon Beckham), Pitcher of the Year (Joshua Fields), Scholar Athlete of the Year (Gordon Beckham) and Coach of the Year (David Perno).

SEC BASEBALL LEGENDS PROGRAM

GEORGIA: Reggie Andrews, SS, 1953-55

A native of Macon who lettered 1953-55...Captain of the 1955 team...A 2nd team ABCA All-American in 1955 (the second All-American in Georgia baseball history) and 1955 Team MVP...A three-time All-SEC selection (1953-55)...

NCAA 3rd District All-Star Team in 1953 and 1955...Part of two SEC Championship teams (1953, 1954) and one Eastern Division Championship team (1955), all under Coach Jim Whitley...Career batting average of .301 with 7 home runs and 72 RBI.

2014 SEC TOURNAMENT

May 20-25, Hoover Metropolitan Stadium, Hoover, Ala. (10,800); Dimensions: 340 Foul Lines, 385 Power Alleys, 405 to CF

For the 17th straight year, Hoover Metropolitan Stadium will serve as the site of the SEC Tournament. In 2014, the format will be a 12-team event. The tournament field features the divisional champions plus 10 at-large bids based on conference winning percentage.

The teams are seeded 1-12 with the two divisional champions among the top four seeds who have opening-round byes.

Seeds 5-12 will meet in a single elimination format on the opening day, followed by traditional double-elimination Wednesday-Friday. Single elimination returns Saturday.

In 2008, Georgia became the first school in SEC history to sweep the SEC Player of the Year, Pitcher of the Year, Scholar Athlete of the Year and Coach of the Year awards. Gordon Beckham won the Player and Scholar Athlete awards while Joshua Fields was named the league's top pitcher and David Perno was the Coach of the Year.

The SEC Player of the Year began in 1993; the others followed: SEC Pitcher of the Year (2003), SEC Freshman of the Year (2000) and SEC Scholar Athlete of the Year (2004).

SEC ACADEMIC HONOR ROLL (1984-2013)

In 1984, the SEC developed the Academic Baseball Honor Roll to recognize those athletes who had a 3.0 grade point average (either cumulative or during the past year), and had 24 semester or 26 quarter hours countable toward a degree. Prior to the 1996-97 season, the SEC dropped the requirement of earning a letter for that season. Starting in 2002, the recipients were chosen from the previous calendar year. A total of 95 Bulldogs have been honored 160 times.

Academic All-SEC (1971-83)

The Academic All-SEC team was developed to recognize the outstanding athletes who are also outstanding students. To be eligible, a student-athlete must: 1) have a 3.0 grade point average for either the past year or for their career; 2) be a sophomore or higher in academic classification; and 3) have 24 semester hours countable toward a degree. There were 19 Bulldogs honored 24 times during this period.

BULLDOG DRAFT FAST FACTS

The Bulldogs have a string of 41 straight seasons with at least one player signing a professional contract. In 2013, three players were drafted and two began their professional career. UGA led the nation in 2009 with 11 players selected in the draft.

Georgia has had nine first-rounders in school history: Larry Littleton, OF (1976/Secondary phase/6th overall), Jeff Pyburn, OF (1980/5th overall), Cris Carpenter, RHP (1987/14th overall), Derek Lilliquist, LHP (1987/6th overall), Kendall Rhine, RHP (1992/37th overall) Brooks Brown, RHP (2006/34th overall), Gordon Beckham, SS (2008/8th overall), Joshua Fields, RHP (2008/20th overall) and Zach Cone, OF (2011/37th overall). Also in December of 2012, Fields went first overall in the Rule 5 draft to the Houston Astros.

Boling Returns

Patrick Boling opted to return for his final year after getting drafted by the Washington Nationals in 2013.

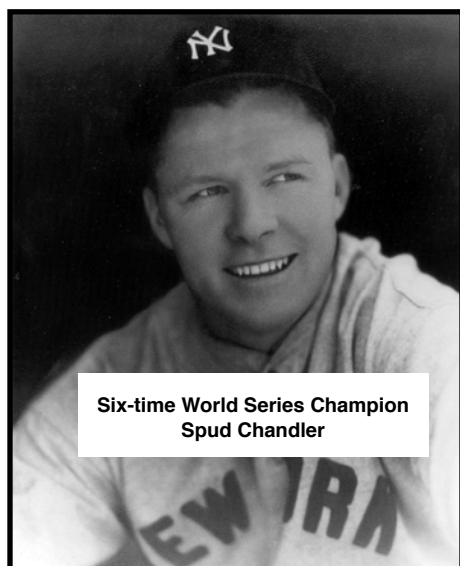

A total of 36 former Bulldogs have reached the Major League level. It began with Claude Derrick for the Philadelphia Athletics in 1909. The latest Bulldogs to make it to the majors were pitchers Joshua Fields (Houston) and Alex Wood (Atlanta) in 2013. They were among the six Bulldogs to play in the majors last year, joining Gordon Beckham (Chicago) Mitchell Boggs (St. Louis/Colorado), Justin Grimm (Texas/Chicago) and Jeff Keppinger (Chicago).

Looking back in MLB history, Derrick played on Connie Mack's World Championship teams in 1910 and 1911 and, while recovering from a broken ankle in Baltimore in 1912, he was the first roommate of a rookie pitcher named George Herman "Babe" Ruth. Nolen Richardson, a Georgia standout in football and basketball in the 1920s, played six years in the majors and returned to coach the Bulldogs in 1951. Johnny Rucker was featured in LIFE as a promising rookie in 1940.

While many Bulldogs enjoyed success throughout their career, one who stands out is Spurgeon "Spud" Chandler. Chandler was a part of seven World Series teams for the New York Yankees, including winners of six championships. Actually, he first played in Yankee Stadium as a member of the Bulldog football team. Georgia defeated New York University 7-6 on Nov. 7, 1931. Following his graduation in 1932, the Carnesville, Ga., native spent five years in the minors before returning to Yankee Stadium as a major leaguer. In his 11-year career, his finest season came in 1943. He led the league in Wins, Earned Run Average and Complete Games, going 20-4 with a 1.64 ERA and 20 complete games. He went 2-0 with a 0.50 ERA in the 1943 World Series, winning game one and pitching a shutout in the clinching game five over St. Louis.

MLB TRIVIA: Larry Littleton and former St. Louis Cardinal outfielder Michael Potter hold the MLB record for most career at bats by a non-pitcher without a hit. Littleton made the Indians 1981 team out of spring training. He made his debut in game two that season, pinch-hitting in the ninth inning. He grounded out to eventual Hall of Famer Robin Yount. His lone RBI came on a bases-loaded line out off Minnesota's Jerry Koonsman that Mickey Hatcher ran down. Most of his at-bats came as a pinch-hitter, and he started just four games over a 45-day span.

Academic All-Americans (voted on by *CoSIDA)

To be eligible to become a member of the Academic All-America team, a college scholar-athlete must be nominated by his sports information director, hold a minimum of 3.20 cumulative GPA on a 4.0 scale, be a starter or key reserve on the varsity and reached sophomore athletic and academic standing.

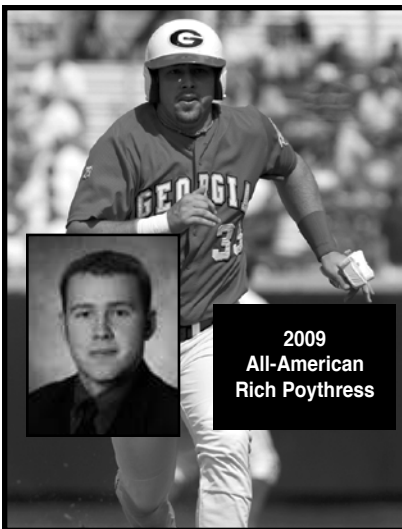

There are eight geographic districts across the country. Scholar-athletes must be first named to the All-District team and then they will be placed on the national ballot for consideration to determine the national Academic All-America Team.

GORDON BECKHAM MVP AWARD

Starting in 2014, one of the University of Georgia's greatest baseball players will have the Most Valuable Player Award named after him. All-America shortstop Gordon Beckham, who earned Southeastern Conference Player of the Year as well as SEC Scholar-Athlete of the Year honors in his career, will have his name attached to Georgia's annual MVP Award.

"Gordon possesses all the qualities a program is looking for in their most valuable player, and he continues to represent Georgia in a first class manner as a professional in the Major Leagues," said UGA head coach Scott Stricklin. "It's a tribute to how he valued the importance of excelling in the classroom and on the field as a Georgia Bulldog."

Beckham arrived at UGA in 2006 as an undrafted infielder and went on to establish himself as one of the best ever to wear the red and black. He was tabbed an All-American and an Academic All-American. He started all 197 games of his three-year career, leading Georgia to a pair of College World Series appearances including the 2008 CWS Finals. He was a first round draft pick of the Chicago White Sox in 2008, made his MLB debut less than a year later and was named the 2009 American League Rookie of the Year by the MLB Players Association and The Sporting News.

USA BASEBALL TEAM

USABaseball, based in Durham, N.C., is the national governing body of amateur baseball in the United States and a member of the United States Olympic Committee (USOC).

The organization selects, trains, and supports the USABaseball Team and a Junior Team which participates in international competitions, including the Olympic Games and World Championships.

While the first official exhibition baseball game in the Olympics was a 1912 contest in Stockholm, Sweden, reports exist that an unrecognized baseball game was played at the 1904 Games in St. Louis, Mo. A number of single game exhibitions were also played at the 1936, 1952, 1956, and 1964 Olympic Games. The 1992 Games in Barcelona was the debut of baseball as a medal sport.

Kyle Farmer served as the starting shortstop on the 2012 USA Summer Team.

OLYMPIC TEAM

1936 Henry Wagnon, C (Bostwick, Ga.)

Wagnon was one of 22 delegates to the International Sports Congress whose members demonstrated American Games to other nations in Berlin. Although other countries had planned to send teams for the baseball tournament, none did. So, the USA squad split into two teams and played a night game before a world-record crowd reported to be over 125,000. The World Amateurs defeated the USA Olympics 6-5.

USA SUMMER TEAM

1987 Cris Carpenter, RHP (Gainesville, Ga.)

(1.37 ERA, 5 SV, 59.1 IP, 69 Ks, USA Record 32 games pitched)

Team: 34-9, Silver Medal in Pan Am Games and Intercon. Cup

1989 Dave Fleming, LHP (Mahopac, N.Y.)

(*6-3, 6.32 ERA, 14 G, 8 GS), *Team-high 6 wins.

Team: 27-17, 6th in Intercontinental Cup (1-5)

1994 Brian Powell, RHP (Bainbridge, Ga.)

(2-2, 4.76 ERA, 9 G, 7 GS)

Opening Night Starter, beat Nicaragua 7-4 in Millington, Tenn.

Team: 24-13, 4-4 in World Championships, 6th Place

2002 Clint Sammons, C (Stone Mountain, Ga.)

(8 games, 5 starts before hit by a pitch in a game that broke his wrist and ended his tour. Perfect fielding percentage with 63 putouts, 11 assists, threw out 33% of runners, two pickoffs, batted .100-0-2 in 20 at bats); Team: 23-7, 2nd at FISU World Championships

2012 Kyle Farmer, SS (Atlanta, Ga.)

(17 games, Batted .250 with five doubles, eight RBI and a .967 FLDG.%)

Starting shortstop helped team go 12-5 and a bronze medal in the Netherlands. Four of team's five losses came to Cuba that had 12 World Baseball Classic veterans. Farmer had 3 RBI during medal round of the tournament. The team went 2-3 against Cuba in Havana and was the first U.S. squad to travel there in 16 years.

USA National Fall/Summer Team Trials

1997: Zack Franchiseur, RHP (Conyers, Ga.)

2000: Jeff Keppinger, SS (Auburn, Ga.)

2010: Zach Cone, OF (Lilburn, Ga.)

USA 18U National Team

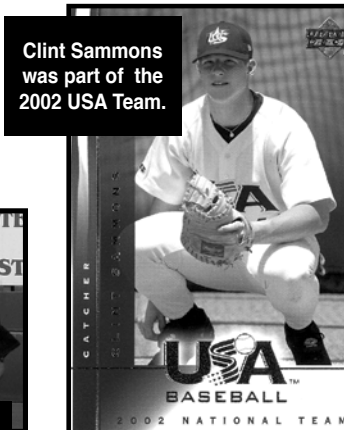

2008: Cecil Tanner, RHP (Waycross, Ga.)

Georgia pitcher Brian Powell was a member of the 1994 USA squad that had six SEC players.

Cecil Tanner

Clint Sammons was part of the 2002 USA Team.

The 1990 season will long be remembered as the finest ever produced at Georgia.

Catcher Terry Childers' play in the seventh preserved a 2-1 lead as Stan Payne and Dave Fleming combined to lead the Bulldogs to the national title.

Georgia was invited to Washington D.C., to discuss the strategy they used with President George Bush, a baseball letterman in his collegiate days at Yale.

Steve Webber compiled a 500-403-1 record in 16 seasons (1981-96) as the head coach at Georgia. He led the Bulldogs to two College World Series appearances (1987, '90), including a national championship in 1990.

After his Georgia coaching career, Webber has served as a pitching coach in the following organizations: New York Yankees, San Diego Padres and the Houston Astros.

Pitchers (2): Dave Fleming and Mike Rebhan, Georgia;

Catcher: Michael Daniel, Okla. State; First Base: Doug Radziewicz, Georgia; Second Base: Troy Paulsen, Stanford; Shortstop: Brad Beanblossom, Okla. State; Third Base: Bobby Carlsen, Okla. State; Outfield (3): Jeffrey Hammonds, Stanford, Tim Clark, LSU, Jason Rychlick, Citadel; Designated Hitter: Lyle Mouton, LSU;

+1990 CWS MVP: Mike Rebhan, Georgia

+CWS Note: In 1996, the CWS celebrated its 50th anniversary. All-Decade teams were selected by a panel and Rebhan made it for the 1990s. In the series, he beat Stanford's Mike Mussina twice, going 2-0 with a 1.00 ERA and two complete games.

GOLD GLOVE AWARDS

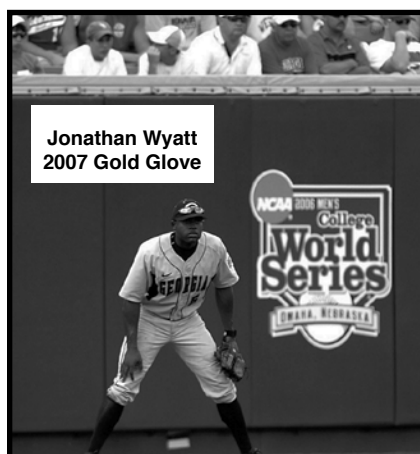

2007: Jonathan Wyatt, OF

2008: Rich Poythress, 1B

Beginning in 2007, the American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA) along with Rawlings Sporting Goods began a program where Rawlings Gold Glove Awards were presented to NCAA Division I players. Nomination and voting criteria are the same as the ABCA Rawlings All-Region and All-American Awards, which are collegiate baseball's oldest selections, dating back to 1949. The players and their schools each receive a Rawlings Gold Glove Award.

Georgia outfielder Jonathan Wyatt was one of the nine inaugural recipients in 2007. He led all SEC outfielders with a perfect 1.000 Fielding Percentage in 164 total chances in his final season with the Bulldogs. He was a 13th-round pick of the Chicago Cubs.

Rich Poythress received national recognition for his stellar play at first base for the SEC champion Bulldogs in 2008, earning a Gold Glove Award. He recorded a .995 fielding percentage in 69 starts with a school record 55 assists to go with 535 putouts in helping the team reach the College World Series Finals. Poythress finished his career with a .993 Fielding Percentage (1323 PO, 127 A, 10 E). He was a second round pick of the Seattle Mariners in 2009.

THE GOLDEN SPIKES AWARD

The Golden Spikes award is given annually to the top amateur baseball player in America. Any exceptional collegiate, high school, youth program and independent amateur baseball players are eligible.

Six former Bulldogs have been nominated for this prestigious honor including first round picks Gordon Beckham and Joshua Fields in 2008 and second round pick Rich Poythress in 2009. Beckham was a finalist for the award while Fields and Poythress were semifinalists. In 1987, not only was it a banner year for the Bulldogs as a team, but also for some individuals. Pitchers Cris Carpenter and Derek Lilliquist were tabbed as nominees for the award. It marked only the second time that two teammates were nominated in the same year. In 1990 former Bulldog pitcher Dave Fleming, who led Georgia to its first-ever national championship, was nominated. The winner of the award goes through a selection process in which a 60-person committee ranks the top nine individuals and then selects a winner based upon exceptional athletic ability, sportsmanship, character, and overall contribution to the sport at any level.

The winner is automatically enshrined in the United States Baseball Federation's Amateur Baseball Hall of Fame. His name is also added to the permanent Golden Spikes Award at the National Baseball Hall of Fame. In addition, the winner also becomes the USBF's nominee for the AAU's Sullivan Award, which goes to the nation's top amateur athlete.

THE BERT KIZER AWARD

The Bert Kizer Award is named annually to the Georgia baseball letterman, who in his first year, displayed exemplary achievement in the combined areas of academics, athletics and citizenship. The award was established during the 1991 season. Bert Kizer was a loyal Georgia Baseball supporter for a number of years. In fact, his two sons, Bubba and Craig, both lettered for the Bulldogs. Bubba was an All-America infielder who recorded a career .346 batting average from 1976-78. Craig lettered in 1981-82 and posted a career pitching record of 6-2.

JIM UMBRIGHT AWARD

The Jim Umbright Award is given annually to the Georgia player considered the "most competitive" by the Bulldog coaching staff. The award is sponsored by former Georgia player Johnny Clifton (1951-53) of Atlanta.

Jim Umbright was a two-sport great at the University of Georgia in the early 1950s. In 1952, he was named captain of both the Bulldog baseball and basketball teams, playing shortstop and guard, respectively. From Georgia, he went on to a successful professional baseball career. He spent time with the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Houston Colt .45s. He was part of the Pirates World Series Championship team in 1960. In 1963, he was named Major League Baseball's Comeback Player-of-the-Year. He died in 1964 at the age of 33 after a bout with cancer.

MORTON HODGSON: One of the Best Ever

Morton Hodgson (1906-09) not only was a starter for four years in baseball, he lettered in football, basketball and track. He was Georgia's first four-letter athlete. A hometown hero, he hit .333 on the 1908 championship squad that was considered one of the greatest teams ever fielded by the University. The pitching staff was so strong it shut out 12 opponents, six in succession. He was named to Grantland Rice's All-Southern team.

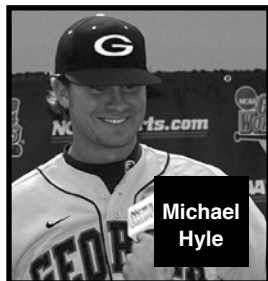

His sons were stellar athletes for the Bulldogs and two of his grandsons lettered in football under Coach Vince Dooley. He is the only Georgia player to have a son and two grandsons letter in football at Georgia.

The 1975 Team: In Big Jim Whatley's "swan song" as the Bulldog baseball coach, Georgia captured the SEC Eastern Division title. The players included senior captain Phil Baker, All SEC outfielders Larry Littleton and Bubba Wilson and one of the top hitters in the SEC in Ted Dieter. On the mound, these Bulldogs were led by All-SEC hurlers Bill Ivie and Mickey Register along with Mike Keepers and Wayne LaHullier.

Hughie Jennings

M.M. Dickinson

BULLDOG LORE

While C.E. Morris served as the coach for Georgia's first team in 1886, Hughie Jennings is credited with being the Bulldogs' first official coach. He played for 17 years in the Major Leagues while also managing the Detroit Tigers from 1907-20. He was the second shortstop and among the first 35 men elected to the Hall of Fame.

Former Bulldog Claude Derrick began his career with the Philadelphia Athletics in 1909 and played on two World Championship teams in 1910 and 1911. In 1912 with Baltimore, Derrick was the first roommate of rookie George Herman Ruth, better known as "The Babe."

*The Bulldogs are 21-7 in the NCAA postseason at Foley Field.

Home of The Bulldogs

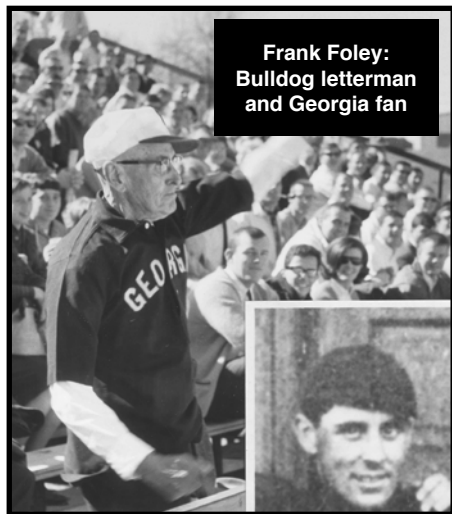

Foley Field, constructed in 1990, is one of the finest baseball complexes in the country. The stadium features all chairback seating. The grandstand area is covered by a partial roof with both concession stands and rest rooms located in the stadium. The complex continues to get better with another project underway.

The Foley family of Columbus is synonymous with Georgia baseball, and they have provided the foundation for the Bulldogs latest stadium renovation with a leadership gift that was announced in December of 2012.

The large-scale measures planned for the future include improvements to the dugouts, Georgia's locker room and team lounge, training room and batting cages. Also, an upgraded sound system, redesigning the stadium's main entrance and additional restrooms and concession areas along with an expanded press box are planned.

The UGA Athletic Association board of directors approved and work was completed in 2013 on a few items of the master plan. These parts included improvements to the right field area known as "Kudzu Hill," installation of a new high-definition video scoreboard and new trees behind the outfield fence.

Since the late 1960s, Bulldog baseball home games have been played at Foley Field. Overall, Georgia is 21-7 in the NCAA postseason at Foley Field including earning trips to the College World Series in 2001, 2006 and 2008.

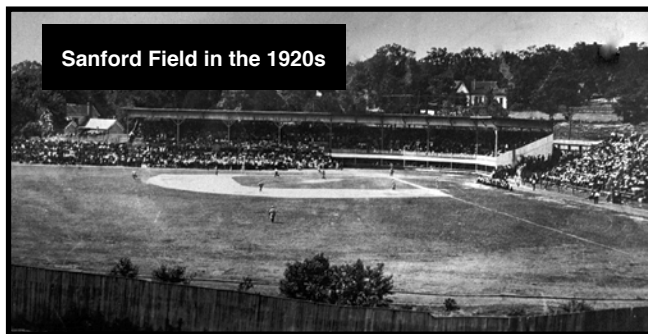

Frank Foley:
Bulldog letterman and Georgia fan

Judge Frank Foley is considered one of Georgia's all-time greats for his contributions both on and off the field. Foley was a part of the 1908 Southern championship team that recorded a mark of 20-2.

He was a distinguished alumnus who is remembered by many as a kind and caring gentleman. His enthusiasm for the University of Georgia was second to none.

Before Foley Field

The first home for Georgia baseball was Herty Field from 1886 until 1911. Then, it was Sanford Field until 1943. Pond Lippett threw the first no-hitter at home in Georgia history, blanking Pittsburgh 6-0 in 1920. Fred Sale pitched a perfect game at Sanford Field in 1923, a 4-0 win over Virginia. It was the first perfect game in Bulldog history and one of only two to date.

After World War II, the Diamond Dogs played on a field with no name located on "Ag. Hill," where Stegeman Coliseum is today. When construction for the Coliseum began in 1962, Georgia moved to its freshman field, which is next to where the Butts-Mehre building is now. In 1966, Georgia moved to its current location, and two years later, it was named Foley Field. On May 5, 1990, a $3.5 million refurbished Foley Field was dedicated.
